CALL FOR PAPER

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON

“INTERNATIONAL INTEGRATION: TRAINING AND DEVELOPING LOGISTICS HUMAN RESOURCES IN VIETNAM”

14th December 2018, Hanoi, Vietnam

Introduction

Vietnam's international economic integration requires the development of high quality human resources in all sectors, including logistics. Decision No. 200 QD/TTg, dated 14/02/2017 of the Vietnam's Prime Minister approving the action plan to improve competitiveness and development of logistics services in Vietnam by 2025 has identified "logistics is an important service sector in the national economy, supporting, linking and promoting socio-economic development of the whole country and localities, contributing to capacity building competitiveness of the economy; Developing logistics services to high value-added industry, linking logistics services with the development of the country's production and trade and the development of transport infrastructure and information technology". Moreover, the decision also brings out missions for authorities in training and enhancing quality of Logistics human resources in Vietnam until 2025.

To create an academic and practical forum for domestic and foreign scholars and specialists from universities, government agencies and enterprises and to implement bilateral international cooperation in phase II on science and technology in 2008 under the Decision No. 215/QĐ-BGDDT dated 17/01/2018 of the Minister of Education and Training, the international logistics conference will be held in Hanoi, Vietnam. The conference is hosted jointly by National Economics University (Vietnam), Hue College of Economics – Hue University (Vietnam) and Logistics Knowledge System of University of Bremen (German).
